Project Description

The Office of Student Programs in the Bureau of Human Resources, Recruitment, Examination, and Employment is looking for eIntern(s) to assist in revamping the Unpaid Internship Program at the Department of State. Other federal agencies describe the State Department's Internship program as the "Gold Standard" for student internships, and an eIntern will have the opportunity to be part of revamping this amazing program. This specific project will entail collecting data from various offices and Bureaus that play a crucial part with the onboarding process of the unpaid internship and compiling relevant data and information into a generic "Welcome Package" for interns to utilize during the onboarding stage of their internships.
